COOLIDGE NOT READY TO CALL EXTRA SESSION

Has no Present Intention of Convening Congress. But Final Decision is Not Yet Made

NEW EXECUTIVE DEVOTES TIME TO HARDING FUNERAL PLANS

Official Business Put Aside for Details of Official Arrangements

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Coolidge apparently has no present intention of calling an extra session of congress, but those who called on him Monday received the impression that he had not made a final decision.

Refreshed by a Sunday of rest, President Coolidge devoted himself to a study of plans for the funeral of the late chief, Warren G. Harding. To this end practically all other official business was put aside.

With endless details, incidental to the funeral arrangements to be disposed of, conferences made the temporary executive offices near the Coolidge hotel suite a scene of uninterupted activity.

Still Silent on Policies

Until President Coolidge presents his annual message to congress in December, it is more than likely that his exact position on many public questions will be known only in an indefinite way.

It is indicated that the president will have nothing whatever to say about policies, beyond his original statement that he would carry out the Harding program until after the funeral of President Harding. There is no definite promise, however, that any statement of an elaborate nature will be forthcoming at that time. Quite likely no general statement dealing with the major subjects before the nation will be issued and the new administration's views will be made known only as the occasion arises for comment on some particular matter.

Public Addresses Unlikely

The president is not apt to make any public addresses during the next few months and unless congress is convened in special session there will be no actual necessity for a complete expression of his views until the regular session of congress convenes in December. At that time he probably will express his desires in detail on all vital domestic and foreign issues.

The new president is thoroughly familiar with the policies of the Harding administration through his regular participation in cabinet meetings. Also he has acquired more than an average insight into questions of legislation through presiding over the sessions of the senate during which all sorts of questions of public interest are debated exhaustively.

Believe His Mind is Made Up

Undoubtedly his mind is made up as to his general policies which will be outlined on page six.

BISHOP MCGAVICK DEPLORES DEATH OF THE PRESIDENT

Pays Tribute to Memory of Warren G. Harding in Sermon at the Cathedral

An eloquent and impressive tribute to the memory of President Warren G. Harding was paid by Rt. Rev. A. J. McGavick, bishop of the La Crosse diocese, in a sermon at St. Joseph cathedral Sunday morning. He said in part:

"The people of this nation today are overwhelmed with a great sorrow by reason of the death of the President. Everywhere over the entire land, in the populous cities and in quiet rural districts the same sentiments of grief are plainly evident."

"With the great body of our fellow-citizens we today lift up voices in testimony not alone of this sense of tragic loss, and of our humble submission to the will of Him who has the nations in His keeping and whose ways are above our ways, but also to express the high regard entertained by us for the departed Chief Executive, and our thorough confidence in the sincerity of his efforts at all times and under all circumstances for the public welfare."

"And with our thoughts turned by this national loss to the things which concern the national interest, let us pray that God may watch over our common country, that He may guide and direct it in the way of true progress, and that we, its citizens, may have such a spirit as He would desire us to have, especially that spirit of brotherhood and of mutual good will, without which neither can God be pleased nor our country well served."

Services Friday

"The pastors of this diocese have been left to form their plans for services on Friday, the day of the funeral of our late President," said Bishop McGavick today. "In harmony with the request of President Coolidge, they have already urged the people to attend Mass on that morning, asking them at the same time to pray for the divine blessing on our country and its citizens, in this hour of trial. More elaborate services will depend upon the judgment of the individual pastors."

THREE WISCONSIN SOLONS TO ATTEND HARDING FUNERAL

MADISON, Wis.—Congressmen John M. Nelson, Madison, and Henry Allen Cooper, Racine, are to be the two Wisconsin representatives at the funeral of the late President Harding, according to word received here today. They were named Monday by Speaker Gillett.

Senator Irvine Lenrow is expected to attend the ceremonies.

DID YOU MISS HAFNER? HE'S TAKING A WELL EARNED FORTNIGHT OFF

John Hafner is taking a vacation.

That's perhaps more of a news item than it looks. John is the Tribune collector, who visits nearly every home in La Crosse every week or two to gather up subscription payments. Probably there is no man in the city who is known to more people than John Hafner. And a whole lot of them are naturally going to wonder where he is when he doesn't show up at the usual time, for John is regularity itself.

This is to inform them, then, that Mr. Hafner is taking a well-earned vacation. He left on Monday for St. Louis, and will be back on the job in just two weeks. Subscribers are asked to wait until he returns for the payment of their newspaper bills.

NATIONAL GUARD HONORS HARDING ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Impressive Ceremonial Held at Camp Douglas as Memorial to Dead President

An impressive military ceremonial in honor of the memory of President Harding was held Sunday evening at Camp Douglas. With the entire personnel of the camp drawn up in a hollow square about the half-masted flag, a salute of forty-eight guns was fired at half-minute intervals. As the boom of the last cannon died away the band struck up the "Star Spangled Banner" and the flag was raised to the top of the staff, and lowered again at the end of the selection.

A salute of guns every half hour from reveille to retreat is being fired every day at Camp Douglas, and will continue until after the funeral of the president.

NO PUBLIC BAND CONCERTS WILL BE GIVEN THIS WEEK

That plans for city band concerts in the parks will be abandoned for this week was announced on Monday by Park Superintendent George Ritter. The action, Mr. Ritter said, was taken out of respect to President Harding. A band concert was already scheduled for Wednesday evening but the date has been changed.

BUSINESS RUSHING AT POLICE STATION MONDAY MORNING

Eight Drivers Pay Fines in Court on Charge of Speeding

"WHEW! We certainly are doing a rushing business today."

That was the way the desk sergeant at Central police station expressed himself as speeders in great numbers appeared in the basement of the city hall Monday morning, denoting Motorcyle Police men Tikal and Fitzpatrick had been "riding" some over the holiday.

And besides those who were scheduled to appear at the usual hour of ten o'clock to answer charges of just plain speeding, there were others who had mixed too many drinks internally with the business of driving an automobile, and were clamoring at the barred gates in all the rush for a chance to get before the judge and have it over with.

Eight in Court

All in all there were eight men who faced the judge on charges of speeding, one of them being charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. Another, Silas Hansen of Gays Mills, speeding forty miles per hour on George street while drunk, deposited $52.50 for his appearance the next time he comes to La Crosse.

Judge Hunt drew from the following a total of $143.50: Winfield H. Burekhardt, $52.50 on a charge of driving while intoxicated; George Thill, Frank Pellinger, Layton Thompson, George McClellan, Edwin Marker, Orvil Olson and Clair Pendergast, $12.50 each on a charge of speeding; Frank Polacek paid $3.50 for interfering with the progress of fire apparatus Saturday.

The police roundup also held within its barred enclosure over Sunday night three men who came to grief in an automobile on the State road Sunday. All three, Willard Anderson, Westly, Albert Anderson and Edward Erickson, of Cashton, were arraigned in county court Monday morning. Willard Anderson was fined $50 and $6.01 costs on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor. The other two paid fines of $20 and $3.01 costs for intoxication.

Trio in Auto Wreck

With Willard Anderson at the wheel, the trio was speeding out State Road on Sunday night about 8:30, when the machine struck the culvert, tipped over and pinned Erickson underneath the car. He was cut about the face and sustained minor bruises, according to a statement of Dr. Reay, who examined him. Albert Anderson was also bruised about his body. The two men climbed out of the wreckage and succeeded in releasing the third member of the party from underneath the car.

Sheriff Lund received the call of the accident. He picked up Officer (Continued on page six)

FUNERAL DETAILS INCOMPLETE

DEFER PLANS TO WISHES OF MRS. HARDING

President's Brother Meets Funeral Train at Chicago to Discuss Arrangements With Widow

MARION SERVICES TENTATIVELY SET FOR FRIDAY MORNING

Troops Mobilized to Handle Huge Crowds Expected in Marion for Funeral

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Plans, as yet incomplete for the state funeral here Wednesday of the late President Harding, will be made in accordance with the wishes of Mrs. Harding.

As arrangements proceed, President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes keep in touch with the funeral train that will arrive in Washington Tuesday. Mrs. Harding already has suggested that the ceremonies here closely follow those held twenty-two years ago for President McKinley and that the funeral party be kept intact for the trip to Marion, where burial will be Friday.

On its arrival, Mr. Harding's body will be taken to the east room of the White House. As yet no announcement has been made as to whether a brief service will be held there before the casket is placed on a caisson for removal to the capitol rotunda, where the body will lie in state from 10:30 a. m. until 6 p. m. Wednesday, an hour before the funeral train leaves for Marion.

Departure of President Coolidge, Chief Justice Taft, other high government officials and foreign diplomats for Marion will be deferred until Thursday evening. Mr. Taft has sent word from Canada that he will arrive in Washington Tuesday to participate in the ceremonies. Woodrow Wilson hopes to take some part in the Washington ceremonies.

Close Federal Departments

In all government departments and bureaus the ordinary business of federal administration had almost halted while agencies in every subdivision of the government were called into service for the sad task of preparation. Work will stop at 1 p. m. Tuesday when the funeral train ends here its long journey from the Pacific coast, and every federal building will remain closed until the body has been laid to rest in Marion Friday.

Three presidents will be in the funeral procession which follows the body of Mr. Harding Wednesday when it is taken from the east room of the White House to lie in state at the capitol. President Coolidge will ride behind the immediate members of the family, and both Woodrow Wilson and William Howard Taft will follow in the long line of officials, personal friends and military leaders. The funeral train will enter Chicago over the Northwestern railroad at 4:10 p. m. and will depart for Washington at 5:15 providing it is able to keep on a schedule. Its arrival will be announced by the tolling of bells all over the city.

The train for an hour and five minutes will be moved slowly from one road to another, while a committee of city officials and aldermen remains on board just long enough to pay its respects to the widow, and lay a wreath of flowers on the casket.

Along the rights of way of the two railroads, as the funeral train steams by at reduced speed, thousands will stand with bowed heads.

All the while the bells will toll and business, sports and amusements will be at a standstill. The hour will be long to the dead.

INCREASING CROWDS GATHER IN NEBRASKA AND IOWA DURING NIGHT

Twenty Thousand Meet Train at Omaha; Flowers Offered at all Stops

ON BOARD HARDING'S FUNERAL TRAIN AT OMAHA, Neb.—(By The Associated Press)—The trans-Missouri west has paid its final tribute to the memory of Warren G. Harding and the east was given its first opportunity Monday as the funeral train bearing his body from San Francisco to Washington sped steadily toward the national capitol.

As eloquent and silent and impressive as were the tributes of the western states traversed, those manifested by the people eastward from the Missouri river along the railway line to Chicago showed plainly the love and affection of the section of the country for the man who was until last Thursday evening their chief executive.

Crowds Increasing

It was only because of the increased population of the states traversed Monday that the groups of persons who have stood mourning along the steel trail since the train left the Golden Gate city appeared in large numbers and at more frequent intervals. Their manner of tribute was but that of the smaller gatherings seen in the Western stretches at every ranch, mining camp, railroad station or center of greater habitation, and the effect of none was lost by the woman who journeyed with the dead in the last car and who still resisted bravely against any outward sign of surrender to her sorrows.

The route followed Monday led through the states of Iowa and Illinois beginning at Council Bluffs and continuing through Denison, Carroll, Boone, Ames, Marshalltown, Cedar Rapids and Clinton Iowa, and Sterling, Dixon and De Kalb, Ill., to Chicago.

Stop at Chicago

Arrival within the city limits of Chicago was scheduled for 3:30 p. m. central standard time and after a short pause there, the train will speed onward around Lake Michigan and through Indiana.

Though it was in the early hours of the morning when the funeral train reached Omaha, there were thousands of persons who had kept watch for it and who like the other gatherings at points passed everywhere since Friday evening when the train drew out of San Francisco, would not permit a time factor to prevent them from making their offerings of respect to the dead, and of sympathy to Mrs. Harding.

In Omaha, as in the other places where stops were made, floral pieces also were offered; thus making it possible for those attending to such affairs on the train to keep the bier always decorated with fresh flowers.

20,000 Meet Train at Omaha

Omaha was represented by about 20,000 of its citizens, with bowed and bared heads, as the special pulled into union station at 2:56 o'clock. Thousands were unable to get past the iron gates separating the station waiting roof from the train tracks, but they peered eagerly through the enclosure, while thousands of others stood on nearby elevated streets until the train pulled out at 3:29 a. m.

"This is wonderful—wonderful," declared George Christian, secretary to the departed president as he stepped from the train. "Who would expect to see such a large crowd gathered to show their sympathy and love at this hour of the day?"

Mr. Christian added that the crowd here was the largest at night since the train left the far west and also praised the way Nebraskans paid their respects at other points along the line.

Mrs. Harding, he said, is a "noble woman and is bearing up wonderfully well and with remarkable fortitude."

Give Us the Tablets

"THE NATION," probably the most radical of our liberal organs, furnishes an interesting discussion of what is commonly termed "the third party movement." While an advocate of a third party that shall furnish in a nationwide sense representation to the aspirations and interests connoted by the stirrings of a varied mass whose several groups respond to different proximate causes, but have underlying a common stimulus, the "Nation" finds consolation in the split-up of the Chicago farmer-labor convention. The reason is that, in themselves, the developments of the Chicago convention added to the conviction of the "Nation" that while class consciousness has given motion to the dissent of various groups to the entire philosophy of the old party organizations, they have not yet arrived at a common sense of cooperation upon broad lines without which a great liberal party can not be cemented and become formidable. It may be remembered that it was this view which caused Senator La Follette to reject the third party nomination in 1920.

Thus far there is insufficient intellectual cohesion, probably because a majority of the country's uncomfortable are not sure how to find relief. While this and that remedy or panacea can be enumerated, running into a mass of project and theory about as useful as the ensemble of bills introduced in a session of the legislature, we confess to considerable vagueness as to what fundamentals of relief the liberal movement is driving at. What conditions are wrong, what human situations are wrong, are fairly simple matters to determine. What would be right, broadly speaking, is not a difficult question for open minded and just people. But how to do away with wrong and establish right is a thing upon which few agree, and perhaps nobody knows. We smile at the Nation's simile which describes republican handling of vital, but "dangerous", issues as a man rapidly juggling a hot potato from one hand to another, but the figure may be extended in its application to justify the juggler. If he is afraid to eat the potato for fear of getting burned, and dare not throw it away, because the food will be needed, perhaps to "juggle" is the only safe procedure. Sometimes it seems possible that our statesmen juggle great questions, not because the common imputation that they do not want them rightly solved, is true, but because they do not know how to solve them and fear to undertake any solution of the evil which might prove more damaging than the evil itself.

Senator Shipstead of Minnesota is one of the things thrown up on the beach by the popular unrest. Brookhart of Iowa is another. Johnson, battling Preus, bubbled up from the bottom. What he does not know is amusingly apparent, but one can not be sure that his ignorance is a more impractical thing than is such knowledge as may be possessed by Shipstead or Brookhart. We may have a new reading of the human aspirations and inalienable rights which the constitution attempts to clarify and to preserve. We can easily refresh ourselves upon certain broad principles which in justice must govern human relationship. But to reproduce them in the actual conduct of men and women, setting every human act to the tune of justice which underlies it, is a very different matter. We treat justice and the life of Christ much the same—as idealism, to be admired, but not to be lived up to at any great personal inconvenience.

The Nation assumes that there will come the psychological moment for the third party. It must not come too soon, just as the dog must not flush the covey until the huntsman is within range. It must not be too long delayed, lest the inspiration that gave it birth grow stale, like an overtrained athlete. Of course the psychological moment is that at which a potentially dominant group shall have reached a stage of understanding, a unity of purpose, and a consensus of opinion concerning practical ways and means that, taken together, would prophesy success.

In its concluding paragraph the Nation sets up as one of the two great needs of a third party, "a definition of its aims and intentions." The other need is "leadership." The Nation itself assumes something of leadership in these matters. It will be very interesting indeed could it give in condensed form the missing "definition" of aims and intentions. And, we would add, suggest the "ways and means" to effectuate the "aims and intentions" for here the disagreement of "too many cooks" has always "spoiled the broth." We have seen many efforts to sketch the framework of the ideal society. We confess we have found none that seemed to fill the bill. Always there was somebody's authority over others forecasting the distress of restraint. Always there appeared the fault that self-sacrifice, generosity, the justice of thought and impulse, were necessary to success. The thing implied "the fellowship of man." But when we have realized this beautiful conception of the fellowship of man, governments and laws will not be greatly needed.

Good Work

HAVING from time to time conceived it to be a public duty to protest against certain objectionable practices of road crews in this county and vicinity, it is only fair that when we are struck by an angle of their work that seems particularly excellent we should balance accounts. Therefore attention is called to the fine method which the county road crews have of building highways under heavy travel with a minimum of inconvenience to traffic. Just now the system is getting a thorough test on Highway 11, north from Onalaska, where the whole road is being rebuilt without a minute's delay of traffic, and without a detour. It evidently must take a good deal of care and calculation, to say nothing of considerable trouble to the road men, to manufacture a new highway in small bites and leave a road continuously open through and over the work, at the same time causing no detours and avoiding the annoying and vexatious be-spattering of cars with tar. Yet the work on the Holmen road seems to progress rapidly and steadily, and the finished portions seem fully equal to any similar construction in the county. Travellers coming from elsewhere in the state are struck at once by the difference in method between La Crosse and many other counties, where even a small job of road building usually means a long detour over back roads that are next to impassable. Road authorities of this county have a lot that they could teach the ordinary expert in the line.

Two of a Mind

BY CORA REMINGTON

"— forever and ever, amen." As the last words of the minister were spoken the solemnly bowed heads came up with a sudden alertness and a slight rustle passed over the congregation as men stooped for their hats and women greeted their neighbors in quiet undertones. Slowly they made their way toward the doors and out into the almost blinding sunshine that poured over everything with all the abandon of a bright spring morning in the country.

"Sunday!" John Walters unconsciously whispered the word under his breath as he hesitated a moment on the top step of the church. It was strange, he reflected, that there should be a subtle difference between Sunday and the other days.

Something intangible, but nevertheless there. He could see it; the roads, the trees the very sunshine itself was not quite the same, and so strongly did he feel this difference that he believed that if in some manner he could lose all track of the days of the week he would know when Sunday came.

He walked slowly down the street, breathing in the fresh clean air. What a contrast to the ten years he had spent in the city trying to make a name for himself—working, working day and night with just one idea in mind.

After all, was it worth while? He had missed so much, he had had no time for friends or recreation. Now as he glanced about at the passing couples a feeling of loneliness swept over him. Nearly every one had some one to talk to, but no one knew him. He was the stranger in the land.

He had motored out to Newton several times before and attended church because somehow it took him back to his boyhood days and he felt that there was more sincere religion in a little country congregation than in a dozen fashionable city churches.

Perhaps he was right, perhaps not, but a strange peace and comfort seemed to come over him when listening to the simple sermon of some earnest young minister.

As he walked back toward the boarding house where he expected to have dinner he dimly noticed the slender figure of a girl in front of him and there was something vaguely familiar about her that teased him every time he glanced in her direction. Who could she be? He knew her, yet he didn't know her. Anyhow, there was one bond between them, they were both alone. Who could she be? He quickened his pace.

"Margaret Cole, as sure as I live!" he exclaimed as he came abreast of her.

"John Walters, as sure as I live!" laughed the girl extending her hand. "How you have changed," he said admiringly as he took in the dancing eyes and flushed cheeks. "You're—you're positively—"

"A girl's apt to change a little between the ages of twelve and eighteen," she smiled breaking in on him. "But what are you doing here?"

"Oh, we moved out here two years ago. Father's teaching at the girls' seminary."

Soon they were laughing and talking of old times—the days when they were next door neighbors in the west.

"I tell quite in love with you that last time I went back home," he laughed. "I watched you playing with your dolls one day and you were the happiest, most content little kid."

"You're a flatterer," she told him. "Not a bit of it. May I walk home with you?"

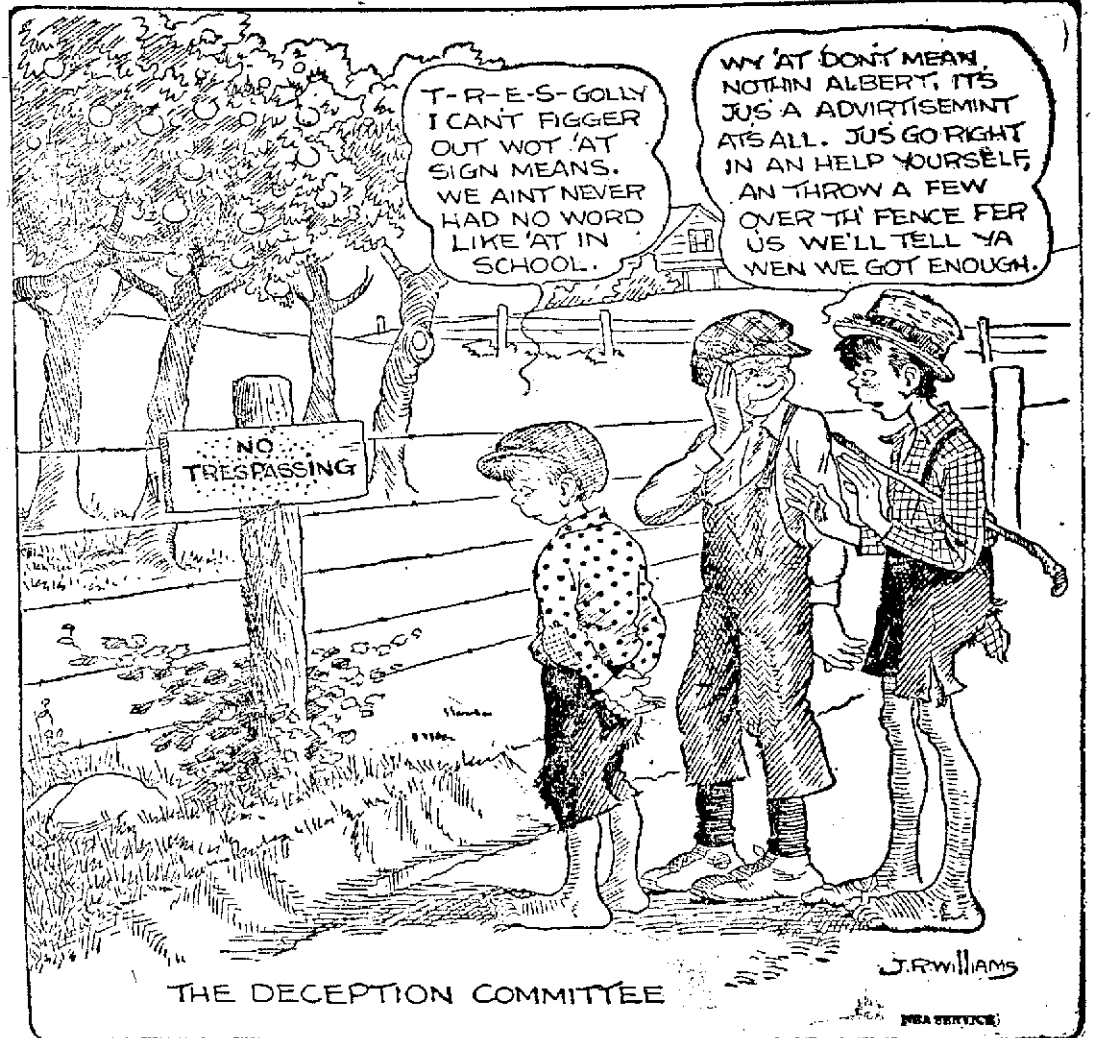

"Oh, you're coming to our house to dinner, of course. I didn't even think that it was necessary to mention it."

"Thanks so much. I hoped you would ask me. I shall enjoy seeing your parents again."

Never was youth more fascinating, he thought, as he glanced at his companion—the lithe figure, the quick step, the parted lips, the radiant face that seemed to be expecting some thrilling thing to happen every second.

It was a gay dinner they had that Sunday. Everybody laughed and joked a great deal, and John Walters felt really happy for the first time in years.

"You'll come back next week, won't you?" Professor Cole asked warmly as he took his guest's hand.

"And the next and the next and the next, if you'll let me," laughed Walters.

"You'll always find a warm welcome," the professor assured him. Before the summer was over it had become a regular habit for Walters to motor down to Newton on Sunday, take Margaret to church and have dinner at her home afterward, and by the time the trees were turning he knew that he had at last found the girl, but Margaret showed no signs of a similar feeling.

When he said anything to indicate his feeling she laughed at him and called him a perfectly dreadful flirt. What was the use of proposing to a girl in that mood anyway? Yet he must know where he stood. He could bear the suspense no longer.

"I have something to show you after dinner," he told her one day.

"Oh, good!" she answered in an undertone. "I love to see things. How can I ever wait?"

A little later in the afternoon, when they were again seated on the porch, she brought up the subject again. "What was it you were going to show me?" she asked eagerly.

"Oh, yes." He slipped a card into his pocket and brought forth two birthday cards addressed in a childish scrawl to himself.

"I've kept them all these years," he said handing them to her. "because because I loved you even then. Now do you still think I'm flirting?"

"Oh, John," she said softly. "What a dear you are! I'm afraid I've been too flippant. Really, I didn't know you cared that much. I was afraid it was only at best some passing fancy. But—but I'm awfully glad. No, wait a minute. Sit down. For a penny I'd show you something because I've been so horrid to you, but I guess it'll spoil you forever. I'll do it anyway. You stay right here and I'll be back in a minute."

She slipped through the doorway and returned a moment later with one hand behind her back.

"Shut your eyes tight," she said. "— now look."

And there in front of him were three birthday cards addressed to her

Ever stop to think of this?

We are what we eat!

It's a startling fact, yet a simple truth.

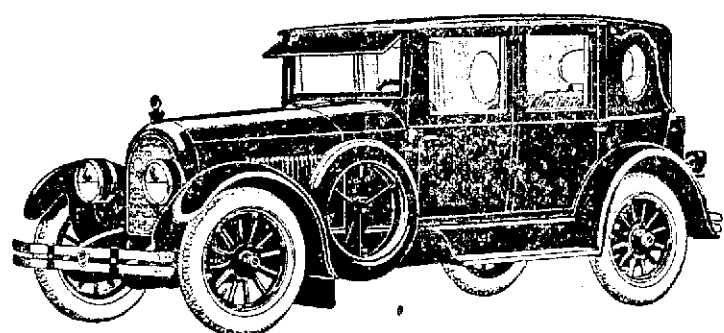

This is the reason every one should know that his food is really nourishing—not merely filling.

Grape-Nuts—made from wheat and barley—is one of the few cereal foods that includes the vital mineral salts so necessary for supplying proper nourishment for nerve and bone structure.

In Grape-Nuts, too, is retained the important vitamin-B of the wheat.

No food has greater influence in strengthening the body of a growing child than Grape-Nuts. And remember, children need the very best there is in the way of nourishment.

Grape-Nuts is just as delicious as it is healthful, whether served right from the package as a breakfast cereal with milk or cream, with fresh or stewed fruit, or made into an appetizing recipe. Try the suggestion given below.

CASINO—WED. AND THURS.

Jack Hoxie is again the hero of a splendid western picture with a cast which includes Evelyn Nelson, James Walsh, James McDonald and Claud Payton.

Claud Payton goes through his part as being the arch villain of this picture with his usual artistic thoroughness. He and Jack Hoxie are constantly in conflict. Claud Payton is severely punished.

"Two Fisted Jefferson" will be shown at the Casino Theatre Wednesday and every admirer of virile action and powerful stories should not miss seeing it.

LA FOLLETTE PLANS POLITICAL PARLEY ON RETURN FROM EUROPE

Meeting of His Lieutenants from all Over the State is Planned

TO START ACTIVE WORK FOR PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATION

First Task is Capture of Delegation to Convention

MADISON, Wis., Aug. 6.—By The Associated Press.—Senator Robert M. La Follette, whose candidacy for the Republican nomination for president since the death of President Harding, is to call a conference of political lieutenants in the state shortly after his return from Europe during October, according to a statement by Speaker John L. Dahl of the assembly.

Before leaving for Europe, Senator La Follette is reported by the speaker to have expressed his intention to hold a meeting of his lieutenants to discuss political plans. This is borne out by a statement of the senator as he boarded his boat rolling the people of Wisconsin that he would be back in the state sometime during October.

The immediate task of La Follette lieutenants is to capture the entire Wisconsin delegation to the national convention in June, 1924. Should the October conference develop as reported, those interested say that the question of delegate elections in April, 1924, will be considered.

Selection of four delegates at large to represent the La Follette faction within the republican party is to be the first problem attacked, in the opinion of Speaker Dahl. Governor Blaine is expected to be one of the delegate candidates, with the remaining three to be determined upon at the conference.

It is expected by those in the confidence of Senator La Follette that each congressional district will be represented at his conference. The leaders in these counties will be directed to select two La Follette stand, and bearers for delegate elections in the eleven Wisconsin congressional districts.

Special interest will be attached to the naming of the four candidates for positions as delegates at large. Republican leaders say the naming of these men will indicate whether the La Follette conservatives are to recognize the insurgent forces within the ranks and whether some defection will be shown to the dry element, according to politicians.

The conservative republicans may hold a conference at the State fair in Milwaukee, August 28 to September 1, at which plans for April delegate elections will be tentatively arranged. The program of action to be followed by the conservatives has been announced up to the present time.

There is said to be a likelihood that a definite organization will be functioning for the conservative republicans before the delegate campaign gets under way. A determined effort is to be made to prevent the election of a solid La Follette representation at the convention, several conservative leaders have said.

MILK IS BELOW STANDARD; LICENSE TO SELL REVOKED

George Bahr, La Crosse, Route No. 1, one of the dairymen supplying milk at the West Avenue station, had his milk license revoked for selling and offering for sale milk that was below the standards in butter fat and milk solids.

The Board of Health and the City Attorney has advised Mr. Murphy to take more drastic action than punishing by a small fine. "All dairymen have been advised in regard to cooling their supply after milking and keeping it cool," Mr. Murphy, health officer, said. "This is a feature of the ordinance that is being violated in a number of instances and I want to warn once more those in charge of milk to comply with this requirement, and in the future any further violations of this nature occur these dairymen will find their license revoked," he said.

"Dairymen not having put up a supply of ice will be obliged to take some home with them the same as many other dairymen are doing."

COUNTY FAIR IN MONROE COUNTY AUGUST 21 TO 24

The annual fair of the Monroe County Agricultural Society will be held from August 21 to 24, inclusive, at Tonah. It is announced by the officers. Those in charge of arrangements for the fair report that it is to be one of the best exhibitions ever held in Monroe county, practically all of the departments having been enlarged this year.

An attractive list of premiums for the various exhibits has been made up, with special attention being paid to the boys' and girls' departments. A baseball game every day is a part of the attraction, with high class free acts and carnival shows.

SPEED TAKES TWO LIVES

KENOSHA, Wis.—Speed claimed two lives as its toll in Kenosha on Sunday. Edward N. Dethman, 16, a Waukegan high school student, was fatally injured just before noon when the truck he was driving was hit by a northbound Chicago & Northwestern train at the Camp Logan crossing. Sunday night at 8 o'clock Alva J. Carler, 35, a car repairer of Waukegan, was fatally injured when the Ford car he was driving collided with another car.

RE-TRACE THE WAY TRAVELED IN TRIP WEST

(Continued from page one) ing officer of the Seventh army corps area, were among those present. State officials, headed by Lieutenant Governor Fred G. Johnson, of Hastings, came with a floral wreath, bearing the word "Nebraska." They brought with them, too, a resolution of Nebraska's sorrow for the departed one, and a message of sympathy for his widow. It follows:

"It is with inexpressible sorrow that we hear of the death of our honored and beloved president, Warren G. Harding. In his passing we have sustained an irreparable loss that will be felt in the hearts and homes of all true citizens of the republic. We bow in humble submission to this affliction with the hope that the God in whom our departed president believed, and in whom he placed his trust, will guide our people in the future as in the past.

"To his faithful wife, whose heroism and Christian fortitude have been an inspiring example, we wish to convey the sympathy of our state."

This was typical of the spirit of Nebraska everywhere as the train stopped at Sidney, North Platte, Grand Island and Columbus, and at other points where it had to be slowed down because of the crowds. Not only did they come from the towns where stops were made, but from other cities and villages and the countryside for miles around.

They gave floral tributes, too, religious organizations, fraternal bodies, and many others joining in the movement. Men, women and children came.

Await Train in Rain In Omaha some folks were carrying babies in arms, while out in the state, even rains at Omaha, North Platte, Grand Island and other points did not stop them.

At points along the route special religious services were held as well as in other cities the memorials including the singing of some Mr. Harding's favorite hymns.

The train was somewhat late in Omaha because of the storms and because the locomotive slipped a tire at Clappell. This caused no serious inconvenience, as another engine from a train following was requisitioned and the journey resumed.

Pulling out, the train carried officials of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad company.

Reaching Council Bluffs the train did not stop, but slowed down, from 5,000 to 10,000 persons viewing its passing. Knights Templar there in full uniform, uncovered and saluted, and Boy Scouts handed in, as the train passed, a tribute of wild flowers. The American Legion, 150 members present. Many of those present had been waiting since midnight and before to pay Iowa's tribute.

Brother to Meet Train

CHICAGO.—(By the Associated Press.)—Riding in a special train, Dr. George T. Harding, Jr., brother of the late president, Dr. Carl W. Saylor, and one other man from Marion, accompanied by W. H. Finley, president of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, left Chicago at 10 a. m., central time, today, to meet the Harding funeral train.

Iowa Halts Activities

ON BOARD HARDING FUNERAL TRAIN, MARSHALLTOWN, Ia.—(By the Associated Press.)—When Council Bluffs eastward the passing of the train brought the same scenes—a saddened people gathered before dawn, or in the busy hours of the day, with a common thought, to express by their silent presence their respects for the dead president.

Lodges, civic and patriotic organizations and bodies of service men helped form the mourning ranks through which the funeral train passed at every station.

Music orders, in which Mr. Harding was prominent, paid him honor. National guard and American Legion men stood at attention for the passing of their dead commander in chief, and dipped draped flags as an expression of sorrow.

Everywhere the arrival of the train found activities at a halt with only an impressive silence save for the possible tolling of a church bell to tell of the public mourning.

Wait Despite Rain A chilly dismal dawn, with intermittent rain failed to decrease the numbers of Iowans who trudged to railway stations or drove long distances through the night to pay their respects.

The funeral special entered Iowa at Council Bluffs at 3:30 a. m. after covering approximately one-half of its 3,600 mile journey.

More than 10,000 Council Bluffs citizens were awaiting its coming. At every street corner were men, women and children, upon whose faces the somber lights of dawn disclosed expressions of sorrow. Some were in tears and one woman was observed with outstretched hands as the train passed to emphasize her regard for the dead executive and her sympathy for the bereaved woman who rode near his body.

More than 2,000 town and country folk were gathered in a steady rain at the railway station at Missouri Valley when the train passed that railroad junction.

At Ottumwa every resident of Denison, Carroll and Jefferson stood with bowed heads as the train passed.

Thousand Gather at Boone

At Boone, the train stopped seventeen minutes to change engines and crews and nearly 20,000, representing large delegations of lodges to which President Harding belonged, and other organizations, stood silently while floral tributes and messages of condolence for Mrs. Harding were placed aboard.

Thousands also were awaiting at Ames.

Mrs. Harding Resting

ON BOARD HARDING FUNERAL TRAIN AT CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mrs. Harding again Monday rested in her room in the private car "Superba," which carries the body of her distinguished husband. She rested from the strain of last week and to store up strength to carry her through the trying hours of the state funeral services in Washington Wednesday and even more trying hours in Marion preceding the commitment.

The widow had a fairly comfortable night's sleep. She talked during the day as Sunday, with some of the women of the party.

Mrs. Harding's conversation is said to be largely concerning her husband, the things he had been doing and the plans he had made for the future. Courageously calm she has been able to maintain without an exception since last Thursday evening.

Members of the party on the train were continuously touched and their eyes often grew misty today as the train sped through the broad state of Iowa. It was the individuals beside the railroad tracks that touched hearts to their depths—a farmer, standing among his corn rows, his head bowed and his rough straw hat clasped to his breast; a wounded former service man standing as much at attention as his crippled condition would permit; an engineer standing with bowed head, his old lady crying softly to herself.

DEFER PLANS TO WISHES OF MRS. HARDING

(Continued from page one) ple are expected to fill this city to the point of overflowing Friday when the rites will be accorded the late President Harding.

It is presumed here though no definite word has been received, that the body will be buried beside his mother and sister in the family plot, but there have also been intimations that the body may be placed in a receiving vault, pending erection of a mausoleum.

To handle the throng orders have been issued from here by State Adjutant General Henderson for the mobilization of 3,000 soldiers of the United States reserve forces in Ohio.

Hundreds of persons motored to Marion Sunday and early in the afternoon. Companies of Marion were mobilized, being stationed at points of interest after souvenir hunters became so numerous that such a move was deemed advisable to prevent destruction of property.

No one will be permitted near the home of Dr. George T. Harding, Sr., where the funeral of the late chief executive will be held; the Harding homestead in Mount Vernon avenue, the "front porch" house, or the Harding burial grounds.

Funeral Friday Morning

It is the hope of Doctors Sawyer and Harding that Mrs. Harding will consent to have the body of the president taken directly to the Marion county court house when it arrives here Thursday to lie in state from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. Then it would be removed to the home of the late president's father, where, according to tentative arrangements, funeral services will be held Friday morning.

The funeral will pass the Marion Star office, the newspaper which President Harding recently disposed of, and through the two main streets of the city, which will be lined with troops.

At the cemetery it is planned to extend a large circle of soldiers about the burial plot and only relatives, the party from Washington and immediate friends of the family will be permitted to enter.

be in substantial agreement, subject to various modifications, with those of President Harding. Inasmuch as there is no session of congress in immediate prospect, however, it is probable that he will take his time in working out his program before attempting to express himself in any comprehensive manner.

There are a number of subjects of major importance on which the Harding program had been sketched only in a general way and to which President Coolidge must give careful attention. These include questions relative to the railroads, the merchant marine, and immigration.

HOLSTEIN BREEDERS DISTRICT MEETING HAS BEEN POSTPONED

The meeting of the Holstein Breeders' Association of Monroe, Vernon, Jackson, Crawford, Trempealeau, Juneau, Buffalo and La Crosse counties which was to have been held here on Friday, August 10, has been indefinitely postponed, according to word received Sunday night from L. L. Oldham, secretary of the state organization who was to conduct the meeting.

The meeting was called off because of the funeral of President Harding, which is to be held on Friday.

STICKERS FOR AUTOS REACHING HEIGHTS ON TOURING CARS

Machines that Register in La Crosse Present Gaudy Appearance of Crazy Quilt

Remember the time when the ambition of every owner of a nice, shiny new suitcase was to get it covered as quickly as possible with stickers indicating the ease and its owner had traveled in? Also it was supposed to be possible to read the case owner's social standing by the stickers displayed from various exclusive stopping places throughout the country or better still, throughout the world.

A similar avidity for collecting stickers has sprung up among motorists. Machine which roll into La Crosse bearing stickers from various cities and towns are daily becoming more prominent. These cars bedecked with stickers are especially noticeable when the drivers stop at "The House by the Side of the Road," the information booth of the Wisconsin Automobile association and the La Crosse Automobile club, courthouse square, and are registered by Louis Hambacher, local tour director.

Some even place these souvenirs on the body of their cars. Others make borders for their windshields, while still others paste them around the rear window. It is apparent that tourists. Machines which roll into La Crosse are beginning to vie with each other in gaudiness of sticker patterns.

The marked increase in tourist traffic this year over last is apparent in the number of daily registrations at "The House by the Side of the Road." The daily records of the information booth show better than a 100 per cent increase in the number of tourists over last year's numbers.

SON OF UNIVERSITY MAN IS MISSING MAY BE DROWNED

MADISON, Wis.—Whether Karl Dykema, 17, son of Professor Peter Dykema of the university school of music, was drowned in Lake Mendota or whether he played a ruse and went off on a hiking trip is causing his parents considerable worry.

The boy's clothing was found on the shore of Lake Mendota. A search of the home revealed the fact that the boy had taken considerable money that he had earned during the summer.

The boy had also taken a pair of hiking shoes and a number of pairs of socks that he used for that purpose, it is believed. He was a senior in the Wisconsin high school.

PIG SHIPMENTS SHOW INCREASE OVER LAST YEAR

MADISON, Wis.—The pig survey by the state crop reporting service here shows, according to an announcement, that shipments to market have increased 15 percent over last year, with a total of 1,490,000 hogs sent to market.

The report said that there are 4 percent more spring pigs saved this year than last from 7 percent more sows. The survey also indicated that farmers intend to have 24 percent more full-fledged litters than in 1922.

ONE TERM FOR U. S. PRESIDENTS ENOUGH DECLARES CUMMINS

Advocates Amendment to Constitution Limiting Tenure in Office to Four Years

STRAIN OF OFFICE TOO GREAT TO STAND FOR LONGER PERIOD

Declares Harding Death Proves Responsibility of Position

CHICAGO.—A federal amendment limiting future presidents to one term was advocated here Sunday by Senator Albert R. Cummins, Republican, Iowa, president protem of the United States senate.

Senator Cummins was enroute to Washington to aid in preparations for President Harding's funeral.

"Of course, President Harding would have been renominated had he lived," Senator Cummins said, "but I always have believed that one term is enough. The great responsibilities and the tremendous strain of the office are more than any man can stand. The president of the United States is required to exert himself almost beyond the bounds of human limitations. His cares and worries break him down. Human frailties are too great to stand the strain which the presidency places on a man. We should limit the president to one term. It might be made a six year term, but I am not so sure about that even."

"Our theory of government that the president should be the chief executive of the nation has been extended to make him the political leader of his party. President Harding gave his life to his country and party. His death only proves the magnitude of the position. He was so conscientious and yet so human that it hurt him to hear criticism of his efforts and false presumption of his motives and the things he had in mind."

One of the big problems confronting the Republican party in selecting a presidential candidate is in determining the type of man to be nominated, Senator Cummins said. "That question was not in dispute in 1920," he declared. "It was known definitely what type the nation needed then and that type was personified in Harding. We will have a dozen or more candidates next year. What type of a man do we need?"

"Wisdom and propriety demand silence on the question at this time," Senator Cummins believes. "We must first recover from this shock," he said. "But our next convention will be a hotly contested one. The next session of congress will be tremendously important."

BODY OF UNKNOWN FOUND ALONG TRACKS

WAUSAU, Wis.—The body of an unknown man, apparently about forty years of age, was found lying in a ditch on the right of way of the Northwestern railroad about three miles from McMillan. Death is thought to have resulted from his being struck by a train. The body was partially decomposed and death had probably been four or five days before. In his pocket was a note-book with the name Yvonne Virvonen of Green Bay. He was called by telephone and said a man whom he knew only as "Jack," had left his employment a week ago without giving his destination and it may be the body is his.

LA FOLLETTE PRAISES KINDLY PERSONALITY OF LATE PRESIDENT

MADISON, Wis.—Senator Robert La Follette, who is due to land in England Tuesday, has sent the following message on the death of President Harding:

"The handsome, genial and gracious Mr. Harding caught the imagination of the American people because he knew and followed the best traditions of American hospitality and social grace. Although he belonged to the conservative wing of the republican party, and we seldom, if ever, agreed upon the questions of major importance, he ever accorded me that cordiality of personal relationship indicative of his fair and friendly spirit."

GERMAN MARKS NOW QUOTED AT MILLION FOR HALF A DOLLAR

NEW YORK.—German marks depreciated forty per cent over the week end, being quoted here at 53 cents a million, or 1,886,792 to the American dollar as compared with 89 cents a million Saturday.

Cable reports that Germany was floating an internal gold loan in bonds of small denominations were regarded here as foreshadowing the disappearance of the paper marks and the substitution of the gold bonds as currency.

The Patriotism of the Birds

The patriotism of migratory birds is curiously constant, the very flies and woods which constitute home for them being resought. Foremost among the impulse that prompts the migrants to undertake perilous journeys, says an English authority, is the "passionate attachment shown by birds for their native lands—their true home—in which the most fascinating period of their lives is spent."

LA CROSSE NELSONS PUT BLAIR AWAY IN THIRD GAME SUNDAY

BUNCH CLOUTS IN THIRD INNING TO GAIN VICTORY, 4-1

Stromwell Effective Through-out; Extends Himself Only in Pinches

BENRUD PINCH HITS FOR ONLY RUN IN NINTH FRAME

Carter Strengthens as Battle Progresses

EFFECTIVENESS of Stromwell and bunched hitting on the part of his mates in the third inning enabled the La Crosse Nelsons to win the "rubber" game from Blair at Copeland park Sunday afternoon, 4 to 1.

In the three games played to date, the La Crosse Nelsons have won two on the home grounds, losing to Blair on the northern diamond.

Al Meinert, scheduled to play first base for the Nelsons, went to Galesville at the last minute, necessitating the shifting of Till to first and Sack back to the plate.

The teams battled before a crowd of approximately 2,000 fans, which was unusual in comparison with the attendance figures of the last month.

Two Healthy Swats

Two healthy swats by Walters and Meredith in succession for three bases each, coupled with an error by Farrington at third and a single by Sack, added three scores to their single marker scored in the second inning for what proved to be enough to give the locals the victory.

The score in the second inning came as a result of Blair's error at Sack's grounder. Smith at first was pulled off the sack by Blair's erratic play and the runner was safe. Till followed with a sacrifice and McConell sent a rapping single by inches inside the first sack, scoring Sack.

Stromwell, Mac was out at second on Sack's fielder's choice and Stromwell whiffed Blair in each case, however scores tallied by Walters and Meredith were earned.

Benrud Pinches Double

Benrud's pinch hitting for Matson in the ninth inning scored the visitors from a slugging. There were two men on the path and two down when Benrud appeared at the plate. In Matson's stead, he made excellent use of the opportunity by smacking a striking double, scoring Franzini, who had reached first on being hit by a pitched ball. Following Franzini, Hartzog had singled, the latter being forced to stop at third on Benrud's double. Carter went out, McConell to Till and the game was over.

For the most part of the battle, Stromwell took things easy and extended himself only in the pinches when men were on base. He showed control of the visitors until they were apparently dizzy and was found only seven times for safe hits, all of which were fairly well scattered. In the second, he was especially effective.

Franzini hit off with a single, stole second and reached third on a wild pitch. Stromwell pitched and rained. Blair to go, Walters to shield, and whiffed Franzini at first. In order Stromwell knocked down Farrington's hot grounder in the eighth for an assist, a brilliant play.

Carter for Blair was effective throughout with the exception of the third inning in which two triples and a single did most of the damage in putting across the three runs. He became stronger as the game progressed, however, and moved the locals down with a consistent frequency in the later innings. He allowed nine hits.

Meredith Stars

Meredith in consistent played his consistently brilliant game both in the field and on the bases yesterday. "Duke" cracked out three hits, among them a triple and a double, and pilfered three bases, scoring third after his double in the first frame and advancing to second and to third after his single in the seventh.

On top of that "Duke" cut off what might have resulted in a score in the fourth inning by romping the bouncer after a double by Blair, throwing out Franzini at third. Blair's hit grazed Stromwell's shirt in passing. Franzini, reaching third on Walters' error, had attempted to reach third on the hit.

Close Decision

There was some cause for argument on Empire Safford's decision at second base in the seventh stanza, involving Franzini. Lief had sent a Texas leaguer over second and Sack, receiving a pitched ball at first, threw a wild pitch. Franzini, passing, Franzini, reaching third on Walters' error, had attempted to reach third on the hit.

SPRING GROVE TILT WITH FORDS BREAKS UP AFTER SEVENTH

Locals on Long End of 8 to 3 Score When Argument Breaks Up Battle

The Dahl's Fords Baseball club added another victory when they defeated the Spring Grove team at Spring Grove Sunday, 8 to 3.

After seven innings the game was called on account of unreasonable decisions on the part of the umpire.

The Fords defeated the Spring Grove outfit last month, 5 to 2, and yesterday Spring Grove wanted to turn the tables. After the Fords succeeded in scoring four runs in the first inning the town went wild.

No decision by the Ford's umpire would be taken and in the fifth inning Spring Grove made the Ford's take their umpire off the field.

The Fords agreed to take him off the field providing Spring Grove followed suit.

Spring Grove then claimed they only had one umpire in the town, but the whole village seemed to know baseball for during every argument the entire Spring Grove audience was in the diamond.

In the seventh inning it seemed as though their umpire went out to win the game for them. The bases loaded, Troyanek threw to Kriesmer, on a hit, for a double play. He got his man and this is what caused the breaking up of the game. The "ball and strike" umpire called him out, but the base umpire called him safe.

The umpire did not call "time out." The runner on third was about three feet off the base and the Ford's still playing the game. "Rud" Kriesmer tagged him out. The base umpire called him out, the "ball and strike" umpire said he was not out because of the argument, although he admitted that he did not call "time out."

This brought a rule-book on the field and Spring Grove claimed they do not play according to the rule book. They claimed they were not professionals and that the rules were for the big leagues and claimed further that when a club goes to Spring Grove they go there to play not according to a rule-book, but to the rules of their umpire who was overwhelming supported and cheered by the entire town.

The Fords played all around Spring Grove, both cut-in and out-scored them. In seven innings they succeeded in tapping H. Anderson, a man from Decorah, Iowa, for eight hits and in the fifth inning, "Pete" Voss, "Cappie" Grath and "Rud" Kriesmer each succeeded in getting a three-base hit.

The Fords were refused their expense money, but the admission price was not returned to the fans.

Spring Grove 0 0 0 0 1 0 2-3

Puzzling Plays
By Billy Evans

THE PLAY

Ground rules often create trouble. That is one reason why spectators are never allowed on the field during a work series.

With the ropes stretched in right field, all hits in a minor league game last summer that went into that territory were limited to two bases.

On one occasion the right fielder backed up against the ropes, caught the ball and fell over the ropes into the two-base territory.

In another case he jumped over the rope and made a catch of the ball at about the same spot. What decision would have been correct in each case?

THE INTERPRETATION

The batsman should have been declared out on the first play made by the right fielder. He caught the ball in playing territory, committing a legal catch, and the batsman was out regardless of the fact that he fell over the ropes, landing in restricted territory.

In the other case the batsman was entitled to two bases. The fielder had no right to jump over the ropes and make a play in restricted territory.

HOUSTON DEFEATS CALEDONIA SUNDAY IN THIRD CONTEST

Big Turnout Follows Club to Caledonia to Watch Team Win, 5 to 1

HOUSTON got in a winning crack at Caledonia in the third game of the series on Sunday afternoon, returning victorious by a tally of 5 to 1. A big turnout of fans followed the club to Caledonia. The games stand 2 and 1 in favor of Caledonia.

Caledonia secured its lone tally in the sixth inning when Rann led off with a double, took third on Meyer's grounder and scored on L. Peterson's error on Hunsd's ground ball.

Houston started banging away on the scoreboard in the first inning. R. Peterson scoring after his single on a series of errors. In the third they annexed one more. L. Laugen walked and took second on Christian's sacrifice and scored on a safe single by R. Peterson. L. Peterson's two-bagger after Kramer had singled in the seventh caused another tally to be hung on the board. The final two rallies were registered in the ninth for good measure when Pitcher Grebin led off with a triple and scored on L. Laugen's hit. Laugen stole second, went third on an over-throw and scored on Kramer's single.

Grebin pitched masterful ball Sunday, forcing the Caledonia down with but two hits, one each to Ryan and Winkewer. The stick work of Kramer and R. Peterson was a feature of the game.

BOTH CHAINS AND WINONAS WIN; BEAT RED WING, LANSING

McCauley Blanks Lansing, 7 to 0; Allows But Three Bingles

BERANEK HITS SAFELY IN FIFTEENTH STRAIGHT TILT

Claim Misunderstanding About Fitzke and Chains

BOTH the Winona clubs won their games on Sunday. The Winonas blanked Lansing at Winona, 7 to 0, while the Chains shut out Redwing on the latter's diamond, 3 to 0.

McCauley came back after a defeat at the hands of the Iowans last Sunday and hurled a game of a game. He let the visitors down Sunday with three hits, in addition to securing a double against the right field fence and a single.

The former Montague hurler held the Iowans hitless until the seventh inning, retiring the visitors in three up and three down order in the initial five frames. In the sixth, Mac became somewhat erratic and walked three men in a row after two were down, scoring the final putout in a force at the plate. Mac struck out nine. He walked four and hit one batsman.

Besides McCauley's two hits, there were two other former Montague men who broke into the limelight of hitmen yesterday. Bill Angell clouted a single and a double, while Jackson found R. Erickson for a brace of singles.

Corbett led the Winonas in hitting, clouting a double and a pair of single smashes. His hits drove in the first three scores for the Winonas.

Chains Defeat Redwing

Over at the Redwing diamond the Winona Perseus Chains were returned victors, 3 to 0.

Hier, formerly of the Winonas, was on the slab for Redwing. He was released by the Winonas following the coming of McCauley. Hier yielded eight hits and erratic support behind him was partially responsible for the opponent's scores. Borgen, Redwing shortstop, having four of the five errors.

Cannonball Moss was effective against the Redwing tribe which found him for only three hits.

Beranek's single in yesterday's game marked the fifteenth consecutive game in which the former Nelsons outfielder has hit safely. It was the seventh straight win for the Chains, and the twelfth of the season in a list of fifteen encounters.

Winona newspaper men reported there had occurred a misunderstanding about the status of Fitzke, the Chains' manager, having indicated that Fitzke had been in line to play with them Sunday.

About two hundred fans accompanied the Chains to Redwing.

KOLBOS DEFEAT LORILLARD TEAM ON SUNDAY, 11-3

The strong Lorillard baseball team from north side was defeated Sunday at West Avenue by the Kolbo Bros. The score was 11 to 3.

Banaches, a new addition to the hurling staff of the Kolbos, worked in pretty style, tightening up in the pinches. He allowed only six scattered hits. He also got three hits.

Ohlson on the heap for the Lorillard, was battered for seventeen hits, one of them a home run by Dalato, the Kolbo short stop. Pierce of the Lorillard also got a home run.

The spectacular fielding of "Burr" Stoll for the Kolbos was the feature of the game. He robbed many of the opposing batsmen of hits. Six put outs were chalked up for him.

The game was witnessed by a large crowd at West Avenue.

Next Sunday the Kolbos journey to Spring Grove to battle that aggregation.

Batteries—Kolbos, Banaches and Nelson. Lorillards—Ohlson and Pierce.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK—Irregular price movements took place at the opening of Monday's stock market with the main trend being upward. The market was characterized by a general advance in the steel, equipment and other standard industrial stocks. American and Canadian stocks, each rising a point and a half, were the feature of the day. The closing was irregular. Heavy selling of the Western rails, particularly the 1st 4 1/2% and 2nd 4 1/2%, which dropped to new lows for the year featured the late dealings. Sales approximated 500,000 shares.

SACK CITY, Wis.—Clues turned up by detectives working to capture the slayer of Robert Jaeger, Sack county's latest murder victim, took them away from here Monday. OVER 1800 FOREIGN CARS LISTED IN DAY IN BADGER CAPITAL

Thirty-nine States, as Well as Canada and Hawaii, are Represented

TABULATE TOTAL STATE COUNT AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE

Believe Total for State Will Approximate Twenty Thousand

MADISON—The statewide foreign car traffic count, taken by the Wisconsin Highway Commission on Friday, August 3, if the result is to be judged from the Madison count, will give astounding figures as to the out-of-state cars in Wisconsin on that date, the commission announces.

The Madison traffic count was taken very carefully by the forces of the Wisconsin Highway Commission in the co-operation with all local agencies, and a preliminary checking up, with some reports still to come in, gives the result that there are so far counted 1845 foreign cars from thirty-nine states in Madison alone.

There is no duplication in these totals, because the license number of each foreign car was taken and entered on a sheet, and while the same license number in many cases was caught as many as ten times by various counters, in the check each car was counted only once, so that this count is for separate cars and not for the total cars seen.

As usual, Illinois leads with 1034 cars, almost exactly 50 percent of all foreign traffic at Madison. Iowa follows with 190 cars. Then in order: Minnesota with 126; Michigan with 107; Indiana with 101; Missouri with 62; Ohio with 54; New York with 22; Kansas with 20; South Dakota with 15; Nebraska with 11. The remaining twenty-eight states had less than 10 each. Cars from the province of Ontario and the territory of Hawaii were also counted.

The count was statewide and as the records come in from the remainder of the state they will be tabulated as rapidly as possible. It is probable, however, that the final result of the count will not be known until about September 1.

Ideas as to the total which will be registered in the state vary. If the Madison count is assumed to be ten percent of the total count in the state, which would appear to be a high percentage for even such a good tourist point as Madison, the total for the state will approximate 20,000 foreign cars. At ten dollars a day per car the total spending of our tourists would be 200,000 a day at this season.

LA CROSSE BOY SLEEPS ON BOAT LANDS AT WINONA

WINONA—Lloyd Slaback, aged 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Slaback, of La Crosse, was a happy boy Saturday morning when police brought him a big breakfast at police headquarters and told him he would be sent home on the next train. Lloyd, it seems, attended a moonlight excursion on the steamer Capitol at La Crosse Friday night, but while the boat was returning fell asleep on the upper deck and when he woke up found the boat had left La Crosse and was half way to Winona.

Mrs. Slaback must have known her son's ability as a sleeper, for when he failed to return home after the excursion she sent a telegram to Winona police saying that Lloyd had fallen asleep on the Capitol and asking that he be found and sent home. When Lloyd woke up and found himself on the boat, he said he went down to the second deck, where some of the crew fixed a place for him to sleep until he could be landed here.

The Capitol came up from La Crosse last night in order to take out an all day excursion today.

WINONA AUTOMOBILE DRIVER SENTENCED FOR BEING DRUNK

WINONA—Albert Tolerud was found guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated by Judge J. J. Fitzpatrick in municipal court and sentenced to serve 10 days in the county jail. Tolerud pleaded not guilty when arraigned Thursday, and his hearing was set for Saturday.

Tolerud testifying in his own behalf, declared that he had been drinking the night before but was not intoxicated when he was arrested by Chief of Police H. C. Rishel, after he had been seen by the chief to drive his car into the rear of another machine, driven by Gus Tsatsos of the Royal confectionery, at Fourth and Center streets, about 10 a. m. Wednesday. He was on his way to work at the Interstate Packing company, where he is employed, he said.

It's getting too hot to even wonder who is vice president.

SPORTSMEN IN FOX VALLEY INTERESTED IN DRAINAGE PLAN

Join in Campaign to Prevent Draining of Mississippi River Bottoms

OSHKOSH, Wis.—Sportsmen from the cities in the Fox river valley are united in a campaign to prevent the draining of the Mississippi river bottoms from Lake Pepin, Minnesota, to Rock Island, Illinois, for the reason that this contemplated drainage will remove valuable spawning grounds for game fish.

The United States bureau of fisheries reports that hundreds of millions of baby bass and many other kinds of game fish are taken from the sloughs and bottoms along the river and planted all over the middle west.

A telling blow will be dealt to all anglers if these wonderful breeding places are destroyed, according to the fisheries bureau. The spawning grounds have been looked upon as one of the very few places still remaining in a natural state where spawning can be carried on without interference.

Experts say that the reclaimed area will be worthless for farming purposes. A distance of 250 miles will be affected by the proposed project.
